PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Second Half Title At Stake As Narberth Meets Coatesville

Week-End Playoff Scheduled as
Davis Waives Half-Game
Lead

SUNDAY GAME IN BORO

By JOHN MULLIGAN
All the difficulties of the Main Line League second-half race, the most serious to crop up in the many years of its existence, were settled definitely Tuesday night at a meeting open only to officials and managers. It took place at the American Legion room, Narberth.

The most serious problem to be considered concerned a forfeit victory which Coatesville had won from Brookline and which had been crossed out by the circuit at a former meeting. Both the Coates and Narberth won both ends of their Labor Day double bills, and by doing so finished in a virtual deadlock for the lead. Narberth held a half-game edge.

The loop previously had ruled that Brookline must play the forfeit game with Coatesville, but the latter protested, claiming that such an order was unfair since Coatesville was not to blame for the game not being played when slated.

Davis Suggests

Following a thorough discussion of the trouble Manager Gene Davis rose to his feet and suggested that the league reverse its decision and give Coatesville credit for the victory over Brookline. The gesture on Davis' part no doubt set at rest permanently any claims of many Coatesville rooters that the borough was "running the league."

The league officers then, after consultation with the managers, agreed that the second-half championship would be decided by a three-game series between the Davismen and Richards' array. Narberth will tangle with the Coates tomorrow at Central Park, Coatesville, and the second game will be played at the community grounds on Sunday. A third game, if necessary, will be played in Narberth next Saturday or Sunday, depending on weather conditions. If played Saturday, the Little World Series will get under way between the winner and Brookline, first-half titlist, on Sunday. The latter will be a five-game series.

While Coatesville was defeating Downingtown and Gladwyne on the holiday, Narberth first upset Brookline, 4-2, in the morning game and came back after lunch to down West Philadelphia, 19-7. On Saturday the townsmen had dumped Malvern by 9-2 figures in a postponed game here.

Aged Resident Fatally Stricken in Bathroom

William Price, 85, was found dead in the bathroom of his home on Dudley avenue, Narberth, Monday evening.

When he did not remove a bottle of milk from his doorstep Labor Day, neighbors entered his home and discovered him dead. Dr. Edwin C. Town, of Narberth, who was called, said Mr. Price had been dead for about 12 hours when found. He was the victim of a heart attack.

Mr. Price, who retired from employment on the Pennsylvania Railroad 13 years ago, after serving for 56 years, had lived in Narberth for 33 years.

His son, Russel E. Price, with whom he lived, was spending the week-end at Wildwood, N. J. He returned at once on learning of his father's death. He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. C. S. Rockwell, of Philadelphia.

The funeral and interment today will be strictly private.

Boro Carnival Cancelled to Aid Ardmore Firemen

Narberth's carnival, scheduled for the middle of October, was called off Monday night by the borough fire company's directors. It was held that it would conflict with a similar affair being held by the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore, September 12 to 19.

Possibly some other benefit will be held for the Active Members' Club during the winter, or, if not, a carnival may be held in the spring.

Rides to Coatesville Sought For Auto-Less Boro Fans

Narberth motorists who plan to attend the Narberth-Coatesville game at Coatesville, Saturday, are requested to take along an extra passenger or so by Raymond A. Cabrey, president of the Narberth Baseball Club.

Mr. Cabrey believes there are a lot of loyal fans, who would like to root for the Davismen, but lack means of transportation.

Any motorist desiring to furnish extra transportation could stop in front of Davis' store at 1:30 P. M., Saturday. The team, the club and the fortunate rider all would appreciate this co-operation.

Around Our Town

Something new in the way of a wedding send-off was inaugurated the other day when a Narberth couple, emerging from the church after tying the knot, found themselves hoisted on the hook and ladder apparatus of the Narberth Fire Department. Round around the borough they breezed, amid much noise and confusion. We are still wondering if the recipients of that gay ride enjoyed it as much as those who thought up the idea. Perhaps if it hadn't been for the rain which rather dampened the whole thing they would have really considered it something in the way of an adventure, and a memorable celebration of their marriage. We don't know if this will set a precedent. Perhaps the next two will ride upon the PWA steamshovel.

During the Narberth baseball game last Monday, or rather while the game was in progress, three men in a car with Massachusetts plates, stopped in front of Shea's Drug Store in Narberth. Intoxicated not a little, they had a difference of opinion as to who would pilot their trusty automobile. The dispute showed no signs whatever of being subjected to peaceful arbitration; in fact, the trio was not adverse to blows. Before long a veritable battle was under way. Druggist Paul Shea, arrived on the scene, anxious to maintain peace (someone had to do it). Perhaps he did not seem authoritative enough, because at first the pugnacious Bostonians paid no attention to him. He looked east, he looked west, he even looked north (there was no sense in his looking south, because all he could see in that direction was his own store, and he had just come from there). Anyhow, to make a short story longer, in spite of all this looking, not one stalwart minion of the law did he see. They were all at the ball game—preserving order, no doubt. We don't know what magic words Mr. Shea used to solve the situation, but eventually the three musketeers drove off, perhaps convinced that they could take turns driving. May we suggest to future disturbers of Narberth's peace that they do their peace-disturbing when ball games are not in progress?

Sunday Movies Start 13th at the Ardmore Theatre

When local option was approved on the question of Sunday Movies, the management of Warner Brothers refrained from doing anything to influence the public one way or the other. When Lower Merion voted favorably for Sunday movies, the Ardmore management still refrained from opening the theatre on Sunday.

"However, due to demands received," says John Roach, manager of the Ardmore Theatre, "both verbally and in writing from the public in the vicinity, there was nothing left to do but establish a policy whereby the theatre would open its doors on Sunday."

Sunday, September 13, has been set as the opening Sunday and the management will continue its presentation of the finest motion pictures available. On Sunday there will be a continuous showing from 2 to 11 o'clock.

In Narberth Sunday movies were defeated by the margin of a few votes.

Dr. F. M. Purse, of Elmwood avenue, Narberth, returned Monday with his bride, the former Miss Alice Francis, from a honeymoon tour through New England. They are now at home in Narberth Hall.

449 in Narberth Schools: Teacher Hurt, Other Abroad

Narberth public schools opened this week with a total enrollment of 449 pupils.

A half-day session was held Tuesday, with full days thereafter. All of the faculty members were present, according to W. J. Drennen, principal, except A. B. Weatherall, who pulled a tendon in his leg, and Miss Mary Hoover, who has been touring Europe. Both will return to their duties Monday.

Kindergarten enrollment, which probably will be increased as families return from summer vacations, is twenty-eight.

Enrollments in the grades are: First, 58; second, 48; third, 50; fourth, 50; fifth, 57; sixth, 53; seventh, 52; eighth, 54.

Retiring Commander

FRANK A. SCHREPFER
of Narberth, who presided this week in Detroit at the convention of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, of which he has been commander for the last year.

Schrepfer Ends Term. Presides at Convention

Frank A. Schrepfer, of Narberth, completed his year's term as Commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart this week in Detroit as he presided over the Order's convention.

He was succeeded by Major General Heinrich A. Pickert, Detroit's Police Commissioner.

Next year's convention site, selected partly through Schrepfer's efforts, will be Philadelphia.

Mr. Schrepfer is professor of architecture at the University of Pennsylvania and leader in Narberth veteran and civic affairs. With him in Detroit is Mrs. Schrepfer, former president of the Narberth American Legion Auxiliary.

Following the convention they will go to California to visit relatives and friends for a brief period.

Only veterans wounded in action are eligible to membership in the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

Sea Dogs Prove Rail Birds As Fish Fall Prey To Electric Co. Salesmen

One of the best sales units in this metropolitan area is selling "The Art of Isaac Walton" as prepared by Captain-owner Howard S. Kromer, of Cynwyd, on his forty-foot motor yacht "Leonardo" off Ocean City, N. J.

They—Philadelphia Electric Company's Ardmore sales group—tried it and liked it, and now it's difficult to get them off fishing long enough to talk about the advantages of electric appliances in saving housewives labor.

Corn Boil At Gladwyne September 19 Lure To Township-Borough G. O. P.

Lower Merion and Narberth Republicans will gather Saturday, September 19, at Gladwyne for the annual corn boil and pre-election meeting of the township-borough Republican Association. Township Treasurer Peter C. Hess will be host and promises plenty of tender, juicy corn, not forgetting many other good things to eat.

Besides the G. O. P. stalwarts from here and nearby sections, Congressman J. William Ditter, of Ambler, and Lambert Cadwajader, first district assemblyman nominee, other county candidates and probably the two State

The Political Pot

Main Line Republican headquarters have been opened at Lancaster avenue and Church road, Ardmore. . . . Walter L. Sanborn, Lansdale publisher, has been drafted as publicity director for State Senator Theodore Lane Bean's committee in its Landon-Knox campaign. . . . Many Main Liners made the trip Saturday to hear Colonel Frank Knox at the Lehigh County Fair grounds, Allentown, tell why Governor Landon and himself should be elected. . . . Main Line registrations are about 4 1/2 to 1 in favor of the G. O. P. In Cynwyd district, 1520 men and women registered as Republicans, 221 as Democrats and 91 non-partisan; in Bala, 1030 are Republicans and 179 Democrats.

Republican Women of Pennsylvania, Inc., will hear Mrs. Henry R. Caraway, president of the Women's National Republican Club, New York, talk on "Vote American," while Representative Clare G. Fenerty, will discuss "The Issues of the Campaign" at the Hannah Penn House in Philadelphia, Tuesday, at 3 P. M.

Regardless of how they fight among themselves the county Democrats are for President Roosevelt. This Sunday an ox roast will be given at Hickory Park, near Layfield, engineered by the group headed by United States District Attorney Charles D. McAvoy, of Norristown. Speakers will be United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Warren H. Van Dyke, secretary of highways, Mr. McAvoy and Thomas A. Logue, secretary of internal affairs. Governor Earle was not mentioned in announcements, possibly wasn't even invited.

National straw votes seem likely not to indicate, with their usual exactness, just how the election will go. The difficulty is that the Lemke vote cannot be easily figured. Unquestionably the rabble rousers back of him will gain quite a few voters for their candidate. But these converts are not the type who cast straw ballots. In fact, it is a guess how many of them will vote at the election.

John J. Ferry, Norristown, who carried Lower Merion and Narberth in last spring's Democratic primaries, lost the nomination to George H. Bartholomew, of Pottstown, is now campaign manager for Jonathan P. Edwards, of Ardmore, who is running for Congress on the "Constitutional Justice" ticket. Ferry, acting for T. Duncan Just, former Pinchot leader, pre-empted the ticket in Montgomery County. Mr. Edwards was out of town this week, but his family and secretary say he is not a candidate.

candidates, Frank L. Pinola, for State treasurer, and E. Arthur Sweeney, for auditor general, will be present.

Every Republican voter, man and woman, is invited.

Sunflowers will be in abundance of course and, so it is hoped, will be the sun. However, weather will have no effect on the corn boil, since it will be held in the Gladwyne Community Hall.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes George Nellings, Orion E. Kline, Elmer E. Baltz, Dr. Frank P. K. Barker, Alan Smith, Grant Olewiler and Robert P. Miller.

Rotary Speaker Sees "Red" Hand in Spanish Trouble

The hand of Soviet Russia is seen as the directing cause of the strife in Spain, Senator Francisco Seco de Lucena told Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotarians at their weekly meeting in the Overbrook Golf Club.

Senor Seco de Lucena, who lives with his wife, the former Miss Virginia Burgstesser, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Burgstesser, on Chestnut avenue, Narberth, is correspondent for his father's newspaper in Granada and for other Spanish and South American Journals.

Next Tuesday the local club will be host to the other county Rotary units. During the afternoon a sports program will be enjoyed. Dinner is scheduled at 7 o'clock, with Denis Mahoney, Overbrook High School instructor, as speaker.

Bala-Cynwyd, Merion Posts Name Officers

Alec Hicks Elected New Commander of Thomas D. Vandiver Post

SLATE IS NOMINATED

Legionnaires of Bala-Cynwyd Tuesday night elected new officers while Merion veterans nominated a "slate" with only one contest looming.

Alec Hicks, of Sabine avenue, Narberth, is the new commander of the Thomas D. Vandiver Post of Bala-Cynwyd. He succeeds W. King Allen, of Llandrillo road, Cynwyd.

Other officers elected are: E. M. Spangler, senior vice-commander; R. L. McCall and E. R. Levin, junior vice-commanders; R. B. Moore, adjutant, and J. F. Mullikin, finance officer.

Members elected to the executive committee are as follows: G. H. Williams, P. J. Curran, G. B. Grey, Jr., R. A. Garber, W. Irvin Simpson and P. B. Wilson.

Installation of officers will take place at the October meeting when the 9th district commander, Harold L. Reese, of Wynnewood, is expected to attend and conduct the ceremony.

The Merion Post nominated Howard H. McConnell, of Meetinghouse lane, Merion, as commander at a session at the Merion War Tribute House.

Election will take place at the October meeting of the post.

Present commander of the post is Harold W. Scott, of 515 Baird road, Merion.

The only contest scheduled is for the office of second vice-commander with two nominees, Joseph J. Klumpp and Lee Krause.

Other officers nominated are:

First vice-commander, W. Irvin Simpson; adjutant, Allen B. Coffman; finance officer, E. Clark Creager; historian, Harry Attmore Prizer, Jr. Nominees for the Executive Committee include:

Middletons Return Home

The Rev. W. Vernon Middleton, pastor of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church, with Mrs. Middleton, have returned from New England where they spent their vacation.

37 Classes in Show of Penn Valley Club

Flower Exhibit September 15 at Montgomery School
Gym

ON DISPLAY FROM 3 TO 9

Next Tuesday, September 15, will be the day of the Penn Valley Garden Club Flower Show, which will be held in the gymnasium of the Montgomery Day School, McClenaghans Mill and Manor roads, Wynnewood.

Exhibition hours are from 3 to 9 o'clock. Entries must be delivered to the school between 9 and 11 A. M.

There will be thirty-seven classes in all, twenty-four for quality, eleven for artistic arrangement, two classes for juveniles.

All amateurs are invited to enter their exhibits. They will find a wide variety in the classes in which to place their choice blooms or arrangements.

The President's Cup will again be awarded to the individual winning the most blue ribbons. This was won last year by Mrs. Charles A. Barclay. This cup must be won for three years in succession to become a permanent possession. There will also be a prize awarded by the chairman, Mrs. Walter D. Fuller, for the exhibitor winning the most points. Schedules for the classes may be obtained at the office of the Montgomery Day School or will be mailed on request by calling Mrs. Fuller at Cynwyd 1563.

Judges for artistic arrangement will be Mrs. Richard Barrows, Mrs. Robert Coddland and Mrs. Joseph Sharp, while the specimens will be judged by Miss Lois Torrance, Miss L. E. Gies and an associate of Robert Pyle, West Grove.

Main Lines

School's open, and the days start cool but warm up fast. . . . Only one Labor Day accident. A Devon man's car ran out of gas on City Line, near Belmont avenue, and a Philadelphia's machine bumped it. None hurt. . . . Less sneezes this fall, due to the township's mowing of ragweed on 250 vacant lots. Thanks! . . . Miss Eleanor S. O'Kane, Spanish teacher at Bryn Mawr College, still likes the one time land of sunshine even though it took an armored car and a U. S. cruiser to effect her escape from wartime Spain.

Nine Main Line women, mostly of Ardmore Park, are late with their fall housecleaning, because Henry Fry, Norristown, so 'tis alleged, collected vacuum cleaners for repairs and kept 'em. He's in the Media jail. . . . Suicide of Mrs. Fan S. Fulmer, Norristown widow, said to have lost the affections of her sweetheart to a younger woman, uncovered an alleged race bet place on Lancaster pike, Bryn Mawr. Men held in the latter case are named Gane and Dumbell. The perfect description of most any gambling establishment.

The county fair's on this week including Saturday at Hatfield. . . . Isaac Calvert, of Bryn Mawr, direct descendant of George Calvert, Lord Baltimore, who founded Maryland, was 68 Sunday. . . . Who gets the profits of demon rum? Lately it's been robbers. A Bryn Mawr taproom yielded $58 and several bottles of liquor. . . . Thieves also took $11 and silverware from Rufus E. Cochrane's apartment at City Line and Berwick road, Overbrook, over the week-end. . . . Ardmore's Merion Fire Company opens its carnival Saturday night on Lancaster avenue near Argyle road. . . . Many Main Liners this week attended the Pennsylvania Forestry Association 50th anniversary convention, presided over by H. Gleason Mattoon, Bala-Cynwyd, president.

Summoned by Accident

Harry Hollar, Narberth printer, was summoned to the home of his uncle in Franklin over the week-end due to a serious accident to one of his cousins. The latter, a youth of 17, became caught in a threshing machine and the amputation of his right leg was found necessary.

The Latest Stray Votes

Twenty-nine per cent of 1932 Roosevelt voters have deserted him and will vote for Governor Landon this year, while 13 per cent of 1932 Republican voters have been gained for the New Deal ticket, according to current poll results revealed by the Institute of Public Opinion.

In other words, the New Deal has lost about 4,500,000 of its 1932 voters and gained about 2,000,000 of those who favored the Hoover-Curtis ticket four years ago, giving Governor Landon a net gain of 2,500,000 among those who have changed their minds during the last four years.

Results of a new poll of rural opinion were announced last week by the American Press, a national newspaper trade publication which has tabulated votes collected by small-town newspapers from the rural sections of 17 States.

The vote recorded thus far is Landon (Rep.), 37,937; Roosevelt (Dem.), 31,665; Lemke (Union), 3,805; Thomas (Sec.), 720; Browder (Com.), 560; Colvin (Pro.), 336. Governor Landon leads in the poll of 10 States, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maryland, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Virginia, while a Roosevelt lead is shown in Florida, Kentucky, Michigan, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Dakota and Texas.

Uniform Traffic Laws

Plans to make America "Accident Conscious" are being laid by the Accident Prevention Conference set up last year by Secretary of Commerce Roper on the suggestion of President Roosevelt.

Efforts are to be made especially to work out uniform traffic regulations for all 48 States and the District of Columbia. At the same time, passage of drivers' license laws in ten States which do not have them is to be emphasized. These States are: Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Missouri, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Wyoming.

These phases of the program, drawn up in recent preliminary meetings by the sub-committee on Accident Prevention headed by Representative Emmet O'Neal, of Kentucky, will be worked on officially at conferences of key men from all the States and the District of Columbia to be held in Washington during the latter part of September. At that time an analysis will be made of the requirements necessary for each State to bring its present legislation into conformity with the Uniform Vehicle Code, drafted over a period of years by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety.

Mission Group Meets 17th

The Missionary Society of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the church parlor in the first meeting after the summer vacation.

A program will be presented by Mrs. H. C. Hebsacker, secretary for stewardship.

The Prayer Group will meet at 2 P. M. in the junior church room.

October CCC Enrollment

Young men, 17 to 28, may enroll in the Civilian Conservation Corps early in October. Applications may be made at the Social Service League, Belmont avenue, West Manayunk, Mondays, 8:30 to 10 A. M.; Autocar Building, Ardmore, Tuesdays, 8:30 to 12 noon.

Boy Scout Notes

Hold Court of Honor

Boy Scouts of the Main Line District held their monthly Court of Honor and Board of Review at the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday. Seventeen boys turned out to receive their awards. The meetings were opened by prayer and a word of welcome from Rev. W. Vernon Middleton, pastor of the church.

Mr. Risdon K. Wenrich, assistant field executive for the Main Line District, was in charge assisted by C. B. Cliphsham, chairman of the Court of Honor, and W. F. Hogan, Jr., chairman of the Board of Review.

Robert D. Thirkield of Merion Troop No. 2 received the rank of second class scout, before the Board of Review. Those assisting on the board were Messrs. Strang, Howe, Kelman, Hogan, Hennessey, Robb and Blakeman.

The Court of Honor authorized sixteen boys to receive 26 merit badges. Wynnewood Troop No. 1 was represented by seven scouts seeking 13 badges. John G. Burns of Narberth No. 1 received the rank of Life Scout, while Russel Belfield, scoutmaster of Merion Liberty Troop No. 1 was awarded the rank of Star Scout.

Awards were: Robert Thirkield, Merion No. 2, second class scout; Paul Blakeman, Merion No. 1, pioneering; Charles Evans, Merion No. 2, carpentry; Allen Sutcliffe, Merion No. 2, public health, first aid; Guy L. $200,000 Wynnewood Development

Six and one-half acres of land containing 706 feet frontage on Gypsy lane, Wynnewood, have been sold for the Frances Clyde Brazier Trust to P. Beccia, builder. The land is high with fine old trees and stream. Mr. Beccia plans to construct a road through the tract according to Lower Merion Township specifications, install improvements and subdivide the land into one-half acre plots to be offered for sale. He will also begin the erection of two attractive homes ranging in price from $20,000 to $25,000 each. The purchase of the land together with the development will represent an investment of over $200,000. Settlement has been made.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo De Forrest Tyrell of Levering Mill road are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, Leo De Forrest Tyrell, Jr., on Sunday, August 30.

Major William A. Spatig, head of the Main Line's Salvation Army campaigns for the last five years, has been transferred to the army's Hudson River division at Yonkers, N. Y.

Local Movies

Shirley Temple is at Narberth; Resume Columbia Happy Hour

Shirley Temple is at the Narberth Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in her latest, "The Poor Little Rich Girl," even more delightful than her previous successes. And there's a merry Mickey Mouse cartoon, "Through the Mirror."

The Columbia Happy Hour, popular last season, will resume this Saturday at 1 P. M. as an added subject. And Saturday matinee of next week a complete hour of Mickey Mouse and Silly Symphony fun is promised by Manager Frank Salasin.

"San Francisco," with Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald, pleasing songs, exciting drama and the celebrated earthquake, will be here Monday and Tuesday.

Wednesday, Narberth's cash award night, Joe E. Brown and June Travis will amuse in "Earthworm Tractors."

By popular request, Elizabeth Bergner will return Thursday in "Escape Me Never."

Friday and Saturday, W. C. Fields will entertain in "Poppy."

Egyptian's 9th Anniversary Week Begins With First Showing of "Suzy"

Lionel Barrymore plays a remarkable leading role in "Devil Doll," now at the Egyptian in Cynwyd. His supporting cast includes Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Lawton and Henry B. Walthall.

Showman Joseph Conway will celebrate the Egyptian's ninth anniversary next week, beginning Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a Main Line's first showing of "Suzy," the story of a stranded American show girl, who takes Paris and London by storm, outsmarts a spy ring and ends up with two handsome husbands. The amusing, exciting show features Jean Harlow, Franchot Tone, Cary Grant, Benita Hume and Lewis Stone.

Thursday, the Egyptian's Bank Night, authentic films of the U. S. Treasury building and the Bureau of Printing and Engraving at Washington will be shown for the first time in "Counterfeit," story of the treasury department's battle against counterfeiters. The dramatic, exciting story is enacted by Chester Morris, Marian Marsh, Lloyd Nolan and Margaret Grahame.

Friday and Saturday, Gertrude Michael, winning great American popularity at present, will appear with Sir Guy Standing in a top-notch film, "The Return of Sophie Lang."

"End of Summer" 12th The Cynwyd Club will present "End of Summer," an informal club dance featuring the Mazda Lane Orchestra this Saturday at 9 P. M. Mr. and Mrs. E. Harmon Friel are the chairmen.

Chevrolet Co. Honors Local Business Woman

Miss Harriett Myers Awarded Certified Credit Manager Certificate

IS EMPLOYED BY KIRSCH

In recognition of her efficient work as bookkeeper for the Kirsch Chevrolet Company, Miss Harriett Myers, of Bala-Cynwyd, has been awarded an honor certificate as a certified credit manager by the Chevrolet Motor Company, J. E. Simmons, of the local zone, announced today.

The presentation was made by Mr. Simmons, who congratulated the recipient on the outstanding work which enabled her to qualify for the distinction. Out of 190 Chevrolet dealers' bookkeepers in this territory, he said, only sixteen have been so honored.

The award, Mr. Simmons explained, is based on bookkeeper's demonstrated ability to help the dealer conduct his business on a sound, efficient basis. Her record over a long period is closely examined prior to reaching a decision.

C. H. Kirsch, president of the Kirsch Chevrolet Company, was enthusiastic over the honor won by his employee. He declared that the public derives benefit from the good business operation on which the certificate is based.

"The economies effected through good accounting react in favor of the customer, through lower prices for service, and thus the results of her expertness are very far reaching," he said. "So such recognition as this—and the ability which qualified for it—are good for everyone concerned."

A gift subscription of this paper costs $2.

Labor Day marks summer's real end. Warm days may follow, but the hum of household activity has begun. There is school, and cleaning and restocking of larders to be given attention. Let the coal bin be an early consideration: — remember, cool days are "just around the corner," and prices still are lower than the winter schedule.

Allentown Fair Opens 22d With Many New Features

The Great Allentown Fair, popularly known as "America's Greatest County Fair," will again entertain hundreds of thousands of people during the week of September 22. The Great Allentown Fair this year will again be held both day and night and will continue from the 22nd to the 26th of September inclusive.

The officials of the Great Allentown Fair are leaving nothing undone to make this year's exhibitions the greatest in the history of its sponsors, the Lehigh County Agricultural Society. The exhibitions of cattle, horses, poultry and live stock will be on a far more elaborate scale than ever before, and in every department records for the number of entries and also the quality of entries are being broken.

The night fair this year will again be featured by the presentation of an elaborate song and dance revue, the "Fascinations of 1936." This revue coming direct from Broadway will have in its cast many well-known Broadway favorites, and in every respect it will be the finest show of its kind ever presented at any outdoor exposition.

The harness and running races scheduled for every day of the fair have attracted some of the fastest horse flesh in the East, and the competition in this department promises to be especially keen. Auto races will again feature the last day of the fair, Saturday, September 26.

Moon's Day to be Shown

"One Day on the Moon," an explanation of the phases of the moon during the course of a month, will be presented in the Hall of Astronomy at Franklin Institute beginning in the middle of September. The demonstration will be illustrated by a large model of the moon, showing the Earth's satellite as it appears through a powerful telescope. This model, built and presented to the Institute by Armand N. Spitz, president of the Haverford Township Chamber of Commerce, will be illuminated to show the periodic changes on the moon during the course of its revolution around the earth.

Dead Heads

To the Editor:

Russia, under the lash of necessity, is going capitalistic more and more each day, proving that human nature is the same throughout the world.

But who is a capitalist?
He is the man who owns his own home, has an automobile, an electric refrigerator, a radio, washing machine, or has his children in good public schools. And any man is a capitalist at heart who would like to feel that something is his very own, whether it is a pocketknife or a skyscraper and whether he calls himself a Russian Communist, German Nazi, Italian Fascist or American Republican or Democrat. For, in the last analysis, the needs of all mortals are more or less capitalistic.

Then why do we hear it said that the capitalistic system of the United States has failed, in spite of the fact that this country has better than half of the world's natural resources? The answer is: Taxes, inflicted upon us by a rotten political system.

People inquire "What is wrong?" The answer is: Lack of governmental integrity, because of lack of individual integrity in those who operate the government. Sound progress is wholly impossible without this integrity, the lack of which means higher and higher taxes which create the vast spread between buying and selling prices. How? Were it not for present taxes, a man now earning say $3.66 a day would be earning $5.00 a day, while an article now retailing for $6.33 would be selling for $5.00.

Therefore, it is the tax spread which prevents buying power connecting with the selling price, and creates unemployment that dislocates and disjoins industrial relations. Call it high cost of government if you will. In plain English it is carrying a lot of political "Dead Heads" on your back. And not until you quit feeding and fattening these politicians who feed at the public trough—who take away and never put in—will you cease to be worried and harassed with economic problems.

The key to the situation is not more or less money, elimination of under consumption or over production, but a thorough house cleaning that will get rid of the dead-head tax-suckers who sap the life's blood from you, your wife and children. You cannot run a real race in life, burdened by the prospective tax load. It is this thing which is killing worried, distressed men, wearing out housewives and preventing children from having a fair chance in this, the richest of all countries.

Blame all problems, if you will, on the late war, the bankers, Republicans or Democrats, but the answer is: still the same, namely, grafting politicians and high taxes. Yet many of us who protest supporting a few of our wife's relatives never register a complaint when it comes to feasting and fattening the ever-growing hordes of politicians and political job holders.

Yes, business is better and improving, but we would have been out of the depression long ago had it not been for being robbed of money which would have bought things and created employment. Vote for no political party, as such, but vote for those individuals who offer you the best guarantee of reduced taxes; and promptly raise hell if they fail to deliver what they promise.

All these politicians are on your personal pay roll through taxes, so it is up to you to see that they deliver a full day's work for a full day's pay. As it is, they but create more political jobs and more taxes. Remember, you are boss, and don't acquire the idea you are helpless and unable to do anything about it. These liver-hearted politicians will "roll over" and "jump through the hoop" if you and your friends make a united fuss about feeding them.

Start cleaning house in your own precinct. Political phrase making, explanations or plain everyday "bull" are but efforts to obtain or hold soft jobs at good pay with no sincere concern over the fact that your taxes are mounting higher and higher. The figures prove it, even though governmental figures are now said to lie.

We have no interest in party politics, for the records of both leading political parties have much to answer for. But taxes are real and must be paid, and taxes are and will be the real and sole issue for voters' consideration for years to come. Get taxes where they belong, and all economic problems will iron out themselves.

The MAIN LINE PANORAMA

"It's all in the day's work," said Mrs. Stricker Coles of Alseot, Bryn Mawr, as she squashed a meal worm between her fingers and offered it to one of her feathered pets. "Some people wonder how I can stand this. I have to! If you love birds you learn to do a lot of things you may not like at first."

Mrs. Coles was speaking in her aviary, one of the finest along the Main Line. In it are birds of every description from far off places such as Australia, India, Abyssinia, Japan. Birds of exotic plumage and ugly voices, dull-feathered birds with glorious song.

Until one has seen such an aviary as Mrs. Coles', the human traits of these songsters are not so apparent. But they are like human beings. Decidedly!

For instance there is Kim, the blue-winged bul-bul from India. No pretty lady could teach him anything when it comes to vanity. He is rather a quiet bird most of the time, but hold a mirror in front of him, and he breaks forth into peacocks of joy.

A baby blue jay holds up the Main Line end of bird life in the aviary. At first he drooped and moped, pining for his parents and freedom. Finally, like most children, he thought better of a hunger strike and called for food. Now he insists upon six or seven meals a day, delighting in the home-raised meal worms, but demanding a little water from an eye-dropper as a chaser.

About seven years ago the aviary had its beginning, of all places, aboard the Coles' yacht, Alseotia, while it was cruising in New England waters. Not wishing to turn the yacht into a dog kennel, and despairing of taming the sea gulls, Mrs. Coles purchased five birds for one trip, including two white Bengalese finches named Darby and Joan.

Alas, poor Joan! She died a few weeks after the family's return to land. The bereaved Darby no longer would sing, and Mrs. Coles decided that naught would end his grief but a new mate, for which she straightway proceeded to search. Long after a new wife had been found for Darby she continued her expeditions, always bringing home some gorgeous new specimen, until now her collection includes more than fifty varieties.

About three years ago Mrs. Coles and two others formed a bird club that they might better discuss and study their pets. The club now has a membership of twelve—a place to meet every month of the year—and includes Mrs. Coles, Mrs. George R. Packard, Mrs. Lawrence Wilbur, Mrs. Charles S. Starr, Mrs. H. Hoffman Dolan, the two Mrs. Griffiths (and their forty canaries), Mrs. Robert Glendenning, Mrs. John Cadwalader, Mrs. Wikoff Smith and the president of the club, an artist of renown, Miss Hanna Mae Horner.

Rarest of Mrs. Coles' birds is Ivanhoe, a beautiful red creation. For more than a year he remained unidentified—even by experts at the Zoo. At last, in one of the specimen drawers of the Academy of Natural Sciences, there was found an unidentified bird to match the red enigma, Ivanhoe? He should have been called Haile Selassie, for he is an Abyssinian Weaver, the only one ever seen alive by the Philadelphia bird specialists.

To conclude our flight into the bird world, we turn to Sigurd, son of Brunnhilde and Siegfried, the plain roller canary raised from its infancy by Mrs. Coles. He is dearest to her heart, for he is living proof of her one-word theory about teaching birds to sing: Don't!

Most bird-lovers claim that the young songster should be kept in a covered cage and be allowed to listen to only one singer all the time. With this theory Mrs. Coles disagrees. Sigurd grew up in the Bird Room, in the midst of a bedlam of chirpings and songs. Did it ruin his voice? Stop, and listen to him as he raises his head and trills out his sweet ecstatic melody.

State Will Issue New Type Hunting License

Main Line nimrods will be issued a new-type hunting license this year, according to a report given out yesterday by the Pennsylvania Game Commission. It is designed to expedite applications for new permits, and also to facilitate reporting of animals taken under it.

The hunting seasons and bag limits are printed on one section of the permit in order that no one may violate the law through ignorance. Another part of the license is a properly addressed business reply card for the convenience of the hunter in submitting his game kill report.

A new feature of the license, which will come on tough cardboard twice folded to pocket size, is a large game tag in two sections, one of which will be detached by the game official examining the bear or deer killed.

Identification by an automobile driver's license, a tax receipt, or other fool-proof means, will be required from now on from all applicants for hunting permits.

HEADLIGHT COURTESY

"Headlight courtesy" will go a long way toward decreasing night accidents on the highway, the Keystone Automobile Club declares in a safety bulletin, criticizing motor vehicle operators who persist in "blinding" other users of the roads by refusal to employ the lower headlight beam in passing.

"This particular form of highway discourtesy is dangerous alike to the discourteous driver and the victim of his bad manners," said Francis J. Hartry, manager of the Main Line Division of the Club, "because in numerous cases the driver blinded by oncoming lights crashes into the offending car, with disastrous results."

Another practice criticized by the club is driving with only one headlight. There is some excuse for this in cities and towns, where the street lights make it difficult for drivers to detect the fault in their lighting equipment, but the club officials insist that the defect cannot go unnoticed on unlighted highways.

Traveling by Stage-coach

"As late as January 10, 1834, the Queen's Highway (the present Chester Pike) was so bad that the mail-coach from Washington stuck fast in the mud below Darby and had to be drawn to that village by oxen".

So runs an account of one of the main highways of a century ago. Stage-coaches were still the principal means of travel, the first line from Philadelphia to Baltimore and New York being established in 1756. With these unwieldy conveyances people took uncertain and even adventurous trips. Sinking into the mud was not at all an unusual experience. In such cases, horses were unhitched and sturdy oxen set the task of dragging the coaches to firmer ground.

Many of the roads around Philadelphia have been used by the picturesque "stages". Baltimore Pike was one. Another, the King's Highway—laid out from Chester to the state of Delaware—once formed the only direct route south.

What a contrast between even one hundred years ago and today in transportation and communication. In this period the science of water supply has likewise advanced, so that we now have water right in our homes; a plentiful, dependable supply of pure, wholesome water.

Fortieth Annual Bryn Mawr Horse Show To Open September 23rd

The beneficiaries selected for this year's Bryn Mawr Horse Show, to be held at the polo grounds from September 23 to 26, are the Community Health and Civic Association of the Main Line, Ardmore, and the Cancer Research Laboratory of the Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia.

Mrs. J. Holcombe Genung and Mrs. Gilson C. Engle head of committee representing the charitable beneficiaries, and will have under their charge the cafeteria, refreshment booths, etc., on the grounds at Bryn Mawr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Plunkett Stewart returned to Brooklawn, Unionville, this week to make preparations for the show. Mr. Stewart is president of the Bryn Mawr Horse Show Association, and Mrs. Stewart is an active member of the committee.

Mrs. Edgar Scott, head of the committee of prominent horsewomen of the Horse Show, returned to Villanova this week to complete the work of gathering entries. Up to now, according to Mrs. Scott, great progress has been achieved in making this year's list of entries worthy of the fortieth annual Bryn Mawr Horse Show.

Entries, which this year will come from all parts of the Eastern United States, include the horses of Mrs. Ellsworth Augustus of Cleveland, Mrs. M. Robert Guggenheim of Long Island, and Mrs. William duPont, Jr., of Fair Hill, Md.

play-off (not to mention the little world series) to cheer them on their way to making a clear first place of it. We hope you make it!

Polo Golf's here—at 50th street just below City Line, in Bala, to be exact. It's the latest in golf crazes. . . . Originated this season by Alexander Findlay, who introduced golf to America half a century ago and built the first golf course in this country (in Kansas, surrounded, probably, by sunflowers). The Bala Course is one of a large number that are going big in Miami, St. Petersburg, throughout the West and New York State. The Bala Course owners also have four Polo Golf courses in the Poconos; their nearest to here are on Roosevelt boulevard and in Ocean City. . . . No, this isn't Tom Thumb Golf—perish the thought! The ball, tennis ball size, is of hard rubber, and is played with a club considerably livelier and more rubbery than the ball. The regulation golf club shaft has a head like a croquet mallet, one half of which is a snub nose and the other a slanting face. You swing the club as in golf; a good drive carries about 100 yards; a clean approach shot about 30. Your Polo Golf score will become amazingly close to your regular golf score. Whether you like golf, croquet or pinocle, you'll like this new major sport—And you'll like, as we did, the sport's connotation—that prosperity is being enjoyed again.

Quaker Trailer Has Moved to New Plant

Large Main Building Allows Ample Space for Making Modern Home on Wheels

Because of the pressing demand for increased manufacturing facilities, the Quaker Trailer Company, formerly located at 1317 N. Broad street, Philadelphia, has just moved its general offices, factory and display rooms to a large, advantageous site on Lincoln Highway at Devon. Covering over five acres of ground, the present plant amply provides for the efficient production of home type and commercial trailers on a large scale basis.

The main building, with 35,000 square feet of floor space, is designed for assembly-line production and contains most of the machinery and equipment used in making the modern home on wheels. Other smaller buildings provide facilities for machine shop, paint shop, forge, the storage of selected, seasoned lumber, etc. A railroad siding gives a direct connection with the main line of the P. R. R.

All of the officers and directors and most of the stockholders of the company are Philadelphians. R. M. Rakestraw is the newly elected president and under his able and energetic direction, with the assistance of men of proved experience, the concern is destined to make rapid progress in a rapidly expanding field.

The growing interest in automobile trailers so much in evidence during the past year or two has crystallized into a surprisingly heavy demand. Families everywhere are making enthusiastic preparations to follow the "trailer trail" north, south, east and west, and Philadelphians, with their neighbors, are apparently leading the march in this part of the country.

Just a line to fill a column.

Friends' Central Adds Nursery School Unit

Pre - Kindergarten and Other Schools Will Open September 22

4 APPOINTMENTS MADE

Little boys and girls of two, three and four years of age will be admitted for the first time this year at Friends' Central School when it opens on September 22 for its ninety-second year.

Dr. Barclay L. Jones, headmaster of Friends' Central since 1924, says "the younger years have been added for the benefit of the parents who wish a nursery school for their children under the care of an experienced teacher."

Head of the Nursery School will be Mary Atkinson Crookston, graduate of Swarthmore College and the New Jersey State Normal School at Trenton. Mrs. Crookston has specialized in psychology and education and has had ten years of successful experience, much of it in nursery school work. A special booklet describing the spirit and work of the Nursery School has just been published by the school.

"The addition of the Nursery School gives Friends' Central students an opportunity for education in one school from the earlier years through college entrance," says Dr. Jones. The Lower School Department, which covers the kindergarten and grades from one to six, will continue under the direction of Miss Grace M. Cole at Friends' Central since 1926.

Boys of the Upper School will be interested in the construction of a new varsity football field, which is being prepared now for use in 1937.

Two new appointments have been made in the Lower School. William T. DeLoach will have charge of craft and manual training and will direct the physical activities. He came to Friends' Central from the Friends' School, where he has had charge of studies, the shop and handicrafts. He is a native of Pennsylvania and follows bicycling, handcraft, gardening and practical arts as hobbies.

Matilda Weidman has been appointed science teacher. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has her masters degree from Columbia. She has taught science and work for five years in Chicago Teachers' College.

Miss Margaret D. Wilson, of Philadelphia, has been appointed as an instructor in speech. She was educated at the Baldwin School at Bryn Mawr and in England. Three years ago she returned to Philadelphia, where she has been active with two little theatre groups—"The Stage Crafters," of Chestnut Hill, and "The Plays and Players," of Philadelphia.

Plans Made for Autumn Fair

One of the first big events of the fall term is the Friends' Central Autumn Fair, at which students display their pets and hobbies they have carried on through the summer. The "Hobbies Show," in which students look forward yearly with a great deal of pleasure, will open Friday, October 9, at 2:30 in the afternoon. Parents, brothers and sisters and friends will be invited to review the unusual display of leisure time activities.

Four Robbers Sentenced for Main Line Thefts

Judge George C. Corson at Norristown Friday sentenced four men for thefts on the Main Line.

Leslie Clark and Peter Bernard each were given from four to eight years in the Eastern Penitentiary, while Joseph J. Dob was sent to the Huntingdon Reformatory for an indefinite period. The youths, all of West Manayunk, pleaded guilty to highway robberies, including the hold-up of Walter G. Case at his Montgomery avenue, Narberth, service station.

Michael J. Koharschek, Reading tailor and "ghost burglar," who confessed robbing the Strawbridge house at Lancaster and Morris avenues, Wynnewood, was given an indefinite sentence in the Huntingdon Reformatory.

Merion League Meets

The Merion Branch of the League of Women Voters held an Executive Board meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. J. Alden Tift, on Baird road, Wednesday to discuss plans for the coming season.

-SPORTLETS-

Quite a few members of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club are expected to attend the annual outing of the Montgomery County Fish, Game and Forestry Association, September 19, at J. Wayne Heebner's farm in East Norriton. Sports will include trapshooting, quito, archery, baseball and a dog show.

Averaging better than 30 knots per hour in his speedy "Bo Peep," Leonard S. Bailey, Merion, won a national speedboat championship, Class "B" inboards, at Stone Harbor regatta, Saturday.

Barbara Strobhar, Merion Cricket Club and former Lower Merion High tennis star, won her first and second rounds in the 19th annual United States girls' championships at St. Martins Labor Day. Tuesday she bowed out to Patricia Cummings, Westfield, N. J., but, with Madge Harshaw, Idle Hour, survived the first round in the doubles.

Coach Al Adam for once is optimistic. The willingness his Lower Merion High football hopefuls displayed in training at Stone Harbor, N. J., leads the mentor to think they may have a fair season.

Second Half Title at Narberth Meets Coatesville

hurled the Narberthites to the win over Brookline. He struck out five. Johnny Jackson got credit for the win over West Phils, chalking up his fifth straight when a great sixth-inning rally of five runs broke a deadlock.

Mickey Gavin's homer featured the morning triumph, while a sensational batting performance by Joey Burns was the high spot of the afternoon affair. Burns created what oddsmakers believe to be a new record when he bashed in nine runs. In six trips to the plate he had five safeties, including a home run, two triples, a double and a single. He personally carried three runs across the rubber.

Pennsy Replaces Pedestrian Fence at Merion Station

The safety guard fence between the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Merion Station, removed a year ago, has been replaced through the efforts of the Merion Civic Association and residents of the community.

Mrs. P. E. Matthes, of Merbrook lane, secretary of the Merion Civic Association, stated that she had received word from H. E. Wolcott, superintendent of the Terminal Division of the railroad, that the fence was being put back because of the unusual conditions existing at the Merion Station.

The death of a colored butler employed in Merion, hit by a train while crossing the tracks November 12, was blamed on the absence of the guard fence at the station.

This fatality resulted in the circulation of a petition in the community by a citizens' committee headed by Mrs. Eleanor Gray Thomas, of 237 Merion road.

Bearing the signatures of over 200 residents, the petition was forwarded to the Pennsylvania Railroad last October.

150 YEARS OLD

Upper Darby to Hold Five-Day Celebration in October

Upper Darby Township will observe its one-hundred-fiftieth anniversary for five days beginning October 25. A half million persons, it is predicted, will jam the township for the show.

"We believe that this observance will rival many of the country's State expositions," Cyrus F. Agnew, general chairman of the anniversary committee, declared. "We expect to crowd into five days everything that the usual exposition offers in as many weeks."

The first day, Sunday, will be in charge of the township's church organizations. Monday will be featured with community sings, in which thousands of voices will be heard. Tuesday will be in charge of civic organizations. Wednesday will be devoted to merchandizing exhibitions by business organizations and Thursday, concluding day of the observance, will be climaxed with a military demonstration and parade.

One-Car Garage Approved

A building permit was issued Tuesday for a one-car garage on the property of George McFadden, 1048 Montgomery avenue, Narberth.

The permit was issued by George B. Supplee, Narberth Building Inspector, after an exception was made by the Board of Adjustment of Zoning.

An application for a two-car garage was turned down by the Adjustment Board following a public hearing at which Mrs. Ward W. Pierson and her sister, Miss Eva Armstrong, of 206 Stepheny Place, and other residents registered protests.

Plans for the one-car garage met with the approval of the neighbors and the permit was granted.

Drinkers Home From Trip

Exploring Canadian River

The Henry S. Drinkers, Jr., of Merion, returned this week from a two-month exploration trip of the Peace River, British Columbia, with a collection of fossil specimens, 2000 feet of movies showing wild life and one of the tallest tales on record. The story is that Mr. Drinker was about to pull in a rainbow trout when a bull trout swallowed it, then disgorged the smaller fish alive—and then the line broke. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Drinker; sons, Henry S., 3d, Pemberton; daughters, Cecelia, Ernesta.

Directors of the Autocar Company, Ardmore, last week confirmed the recapitalization plan voted by the company's stockholders in April, and elected to the board Victor F. Sheronas, investment broker, of Overbrook. Robert P. Page, Jr., president, told the directors "the plant is running practically at capacity . . . no ordinary summer decline. . . . Things are better than for a long, long time."
